MAIN ARTICLES

Sensitivity and specificity of needle electromyography: a prospective study comparing automated interference pattern analysis with single motor unit potential analysis A.C. Nirkko, K.M. Rösler and C.W. Hess (Switzerland)	1
Conditioning effects of sural nerve stimulation on short and long latency motor evoked potentials in lower limb muscles D.L. Wolfe and K.C. Hayes (Canada)	11
Influence of physiotherapeutic facilitation techniques on motor evoked potentials in centrally paretic hand extensor muscles H. Hummelsheim, B. Hauptmann and S. Neumann (Germany)	18
Biomechanical analysis of simple jaw movements in Friedreich's ataxia H. Devanne, M. Gentil and B. Maton (France)	29
Magnetic brain stimulation: safety studies S. Chokroverty, W. Hening, D. Wright, T. Walczak, J. Goldberg, R. Burger, J. Belsh, B. Patel, D. Flynn, S. Shah and R. Mero (USA)	36
Effect of hemisphere-selective repetitive magnetic brain stimulation on middle cerebral artery blood flow velocity D. Sander, B.-U. Meyer, S. Röricht and J. Klingelhöfer (Germany)	43
Characteristics and variability of lower limb motoneuron responses to transcranial magnetic stimulation B. Brouwer and J. Qiao (Canada)	49
An investigation of the late excitatory potential in the hand following magnetic stimulation of the motor cortex S.A. Wilson, G.W. Thickbroom and F.L. Mastaglia (Australia)	55
Inhibition of hand muscle motoneurons by peripheral nerve stimulation in the relaxed human subject. Antidromic versus orthodromic input M. Inghilleri, A. Berardelli, G. Cruccu, M. Manfredi, A. Priori and J.C. Rothwell (Italy, UK)	63
The effect of hyperventilation on motor cortical inhibition in humans: a study of the electromyographic silent period evoked by transcranial brain stimulation A. Priori, A. Berardelli, B. Mercuri, M. Inghilleri and M. Manfredi (Italy)	69
Central motor conduction in Hirayama disease U.K. Misra and J. Kalita (India)	73
Feedforward postural adjustments in a simple two-joint synergy in patients with Parkinson's disease M.L. Latash, A.S. Aruin, I. Neyman, J.J. Nicholas and M.B. Shapiro (USA)	77
Comparison of single motor unit responses to transcranial magnetic and peroneal nerve stimulation in the tibialis anterior muscle of patients with amyotrophic lateral sclerosis F. Awiszus and H. Feistner (Germany)	90
Repetitive magnetic stimulation and motor evoked potentials P. Jennum, H. Winkel and A. Fuglsang-Frederiksen (Denmark)	96
Multichannel detection of magnetic compound action fields with stimulation of the index and little fingers I. Hashimoto, T. Mashiko, T. Mizuta, T. Imada, Y. Iwase, H. Okazaki and K. Yoshikawa (Japan)	102
Modulation of motor activity by cutaneous input: inhibition of the magnetic motor evoked potential by digital electrical stimulation P.D. Clouston, L. Kiers, D. Menkes, H. Sander, K. Chiappa and D. Cros (USA)	114
Late facilitations of motor evoked potentials by contralateral mixed nerve stimulation Y. Péréon and P. Guihéneuc (France)	126
Assessment of cortical motor output: compound muscle action potential versus twitch force recording L. Kiers, P. Clouston, K.H. Chiappa and D. Cros (USA)	131
Effect of transcranial magnetic stimulation on cerebral function in a monkey model H. Yamada, T. Tamaki, K.-i. Wakano, A. Mikami and E.E. Transfeldt (Japan, USA)	140
Multi-MUP EMG analysis – a two year experience in daily clinical work E. Stålberg, B. Falck, M. Sonoo, S. Stålberg and M. Åström (Sweden)	145
Cancellation of single F wave by double stimulation in case of chronic denervation G. Roth and P. Soichot (Switzerland, France)	155
Hyperventilation in normal subjects. A clinical, gas-analytic and EMG study P. Montagna, M. Paniccia, L. Marchello and R. Riva (Italy)	159
The origin of the soleus late response evoked by magnetic stimulation of human motor cortex R. Sammut, G.W. Thickbroom, S.A. Wilson and F.L. Mastaglia (Australia)	164

The relation between bradykinesia and excitability of the motor cortex assessed using transcranial magnetic stimulation in normal and parkinsonian subjects
P.H. Ellaway, N.J. Davey, D.W. Maskill and J.P.R. Dick (UK)	169
Motor evoked potentials induced by electrical stimulation of the spine in dogs: which structures are involved?
L. Poncelet, C. Michaux and M. Balligand (Belgium)	179
Discriminant classification of motor unit potentials (MUPs) successfully separates neurogenic and myopathic conditions. A comparison of multi- and univariate diagnostic algorithms for MUP analysis
G. Pfeiffer and K. Kunze (Germany)	191
Normal values of nerve conduction in children and adolescents
L. Hyllienmark, J. Ludvigsson and T. Brismar (Sweden)	208
Parkinson's disease rigidity: EMG in a small hand muscle at "rest"
R. Cantello, M. Gianelli, C. Civardi and R. Mutani (Italy)	215
Effects of premotion silent period on single motor unit firing at initiation of a rapid contraction
R. Tsukahara, H. Aoki, K. Yabe and T. Mano (Japan)	223
Trial-to-trial variability of corticospinal volleys in human subjects
D. Burke, R. Hicks, J. Stephen, I. Woodforth and M. Crawford (Australia)	231
The boundary effect in magnetic stimulation. Analysis at the peripheral nerve
J. Mathis, U. Seemann, T. Weyh, C. Jakob and A. Struppler (Switzerland, FRG)	238
Comparison of the magnetically mapped corticomotor representation of a muscle at rest and during low-level voluntary contraction
S.A. Wilson, G.W. Thickbroom and F.L. Mastaglia (Australia)	246
Ipsilateral motor response - is it an artefact?
U.K. Misra and J. Kalita (India)	251
Prognostic significance of central motor conduction on the non-hemiplegic side in supratentorial hematoma
U.K. Misra and J. Kalita (India)	255
Motor cortex changes in a patient with hemispherectomy
V. Di Lazzaro, D. Restuccia, R. Nardone, M.G. Leggio, A. Oliviero, P. Profice, P. Tonali and M. Molinari (Italy)	259
Inhibitory phenomena in individual motor units induced by transcranial magnetic stimulation
J. Classen and R. Benecke (Germany)	264
A stable late soleus EMG response elicited by cortical stimulation during voluntary ankle dorsiflexion
C. Ertekin, M. Ertaş, H. Efendi, L.-E. Larsson, H. Şirin, N. Araç, A. Toygar and Y. Demir (Turkey)	275
Lumbrical-interosseous latency comparison in the diagnosis of carpal tunnel syndrome
G.L. Sheean, M.K. Houser and N.M.F. Murray (UK)	285
Motor unit firing behavior in slow and fast contractions of the first dorsal interosseous muscle of healthy men
Y. Masakado, K. Akaboshi, M. Nagata, A. Kimura and N. Chino (Japan)	290
Intraoperative monitoring during selective posterior rhizotomy: technique and patient outcome
L.A. Staudt, M.R. Nuwer and W.J. Peacock (USA)	296
A new method of estimating the distribution of muscle fiber conduction velocities
Y. Okajima, A. Tsubahara, K. Kondo, N. Chino, Y. Noda and Y. Tomita (Japan)	310
Reproducibility of a heteronymous monosynaptic reflex in biceps brachii
T.A. Miller, I. Mogyros, M. Kiernan and D. Burke (Australia)	318
Reliability, specificity and sensitivity of long-term tremor recordings
S. Spieker, C. Jentgens, A. Boose and J. Dichgans (Germany)	326
Comparison of various coils used for magnetic stimulation of peripheral motor nerves: physiological considerations and consequences for diagnostic use
C. Bischoff, H. Riescher, J. Machetanz, B.-U. Meyer and B. Conrad (Germany)	332
Mapping of cortical sites where transcranial magnetic stimulation results in delay of voluntary movement
J.L. Taylor, D.S. Wagener and J.G. Colebatch (Australia)	341
Magnetic transcranial stimulation in non-haemorrhagic sylvian strokes: interest of facilitation for early functional prognosis
A. Catano, M. Houa, J.M. Caroyer, H. Ducarne and P. Noël (Belgium)	349
Electrophysiological characteristics of lesions in facial palsies of different etiologies. A study using electrical and magnetic stimulation techniques
K.M. Rösler, M.R. Magistris, F.X. Glocker, A. Kohler, G. Deuschl and C.W. Hess (Switzerland, Germany)	355
Percutaneous magnetic coil stimulation of the phrenic nerve roots and trunk
S. Chokroverty, S. Shah, M. Chokroverty, A. Deutsch and J. Belsh (USA)	369
Input-output organization in the hand area of the human motor cortex
Y. Terao, Y. Ugawa, Y. Uesaka, R. Hanajima, K. Gemba-Shimizu, Y. Ohki and I. Kanazawa (Japan)	375
Changes of cortical motor area size during immobilization
J. Liepert, M. Tegenthoff and J.-P. Malin (Germany)	382
Postural modulation of the soleus H reflex in young and old subjects
D.M. Koceja, C.A. Markus and M.H. Trimble (USA)	387
Afferent excitation of human motor cortex as revealed by enhancement of direct cortico-spinal actions on motoneurons
F. Baldissera and L. Leocani (Italy)	394
Soleus H reflex extinction in controls and spastic patients: ordered occlusion or diffuse inhibition?
A.A.J. Hilgevoord, L.J. Bour, J.H.T.M. Koelman and B.W. Ongerboer de Visser (The Netherlands)	402
Leg muscle activation during gait in Parkinson's disease: adaptation and interlimb coordination
V. Dietz, W. Zijlstra, T. Prokop and W. Berger (Switzerland, The Netherlands, Germany)	408
Auditory startle (audio-spinal) reaction in normal man: EMG responses and H reflex changes in antagonistic lower limb muscles
P.J. Delwaide and B. Schepens (Belgium)	416

Modifications of audio-spinal facilitation during gait in normal man B. Schepens and P.J. Delwaide (Belgium)	424
Inter- and intraobserver variation in the interpretation of electromyographic tests B. Johnsen, A. Fuglsang-Frederiksen, S. Vingtoft, P. Fawcett, R. Liguori, W. Nix, G. Otte, I. Schofield, M. Veloso and A. Vila (Denmark, UK, Italy, Germany, Belgium, Portugal, France)	432
Variation in performance of the EMG examination at six European laboratories A. Fuglsang-Frederiksen, B. Johnsen, S. Vingtoft, M. Carvalho, P. Fawcett, R. Liguori, W. Nix, I. Schofield, M. Veloso and A. Vila (Denmark, Portugal, UK, Italy, Germany, France)	444

SHORT COMMUNICATIONS

Influence of flupirtine on human lower limb reflexes D. Timmann, C. Plummer, M. Schwarz and H.C. Diener (FRG)	184
Facilitatory effect of tonic voluntary contraction on responses to motor cortex stimulation Y. Ugawa, Y. Terao, R. Hanajima, K. Sakai and I. Kanazawa (Japan)	451
